

Name: _____

- How many squares big is your house?

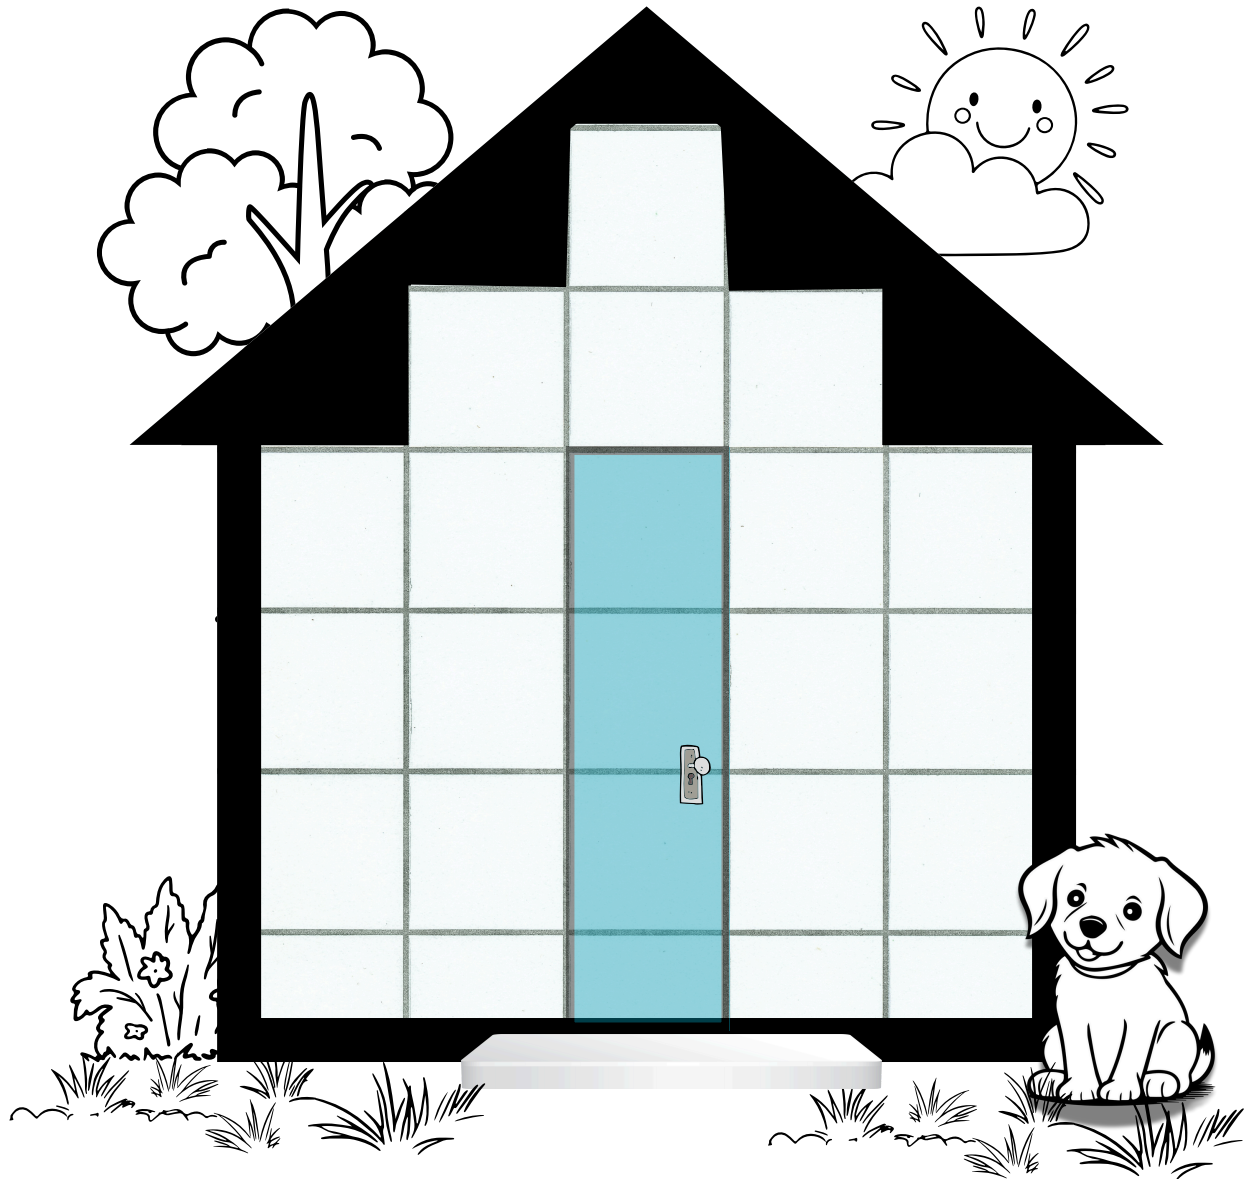

My house is _____ squares big.

- Add windows and a door to your house.
- Color your house.

Name: _____

- When we count squares to measure how big something is, we call each square a unit (\square = one square unit)
- Count how many square units your house is. _____ square units.
- Count how many square units your door is. ____ square units
- Draw some windows and color the picture.

Name: _____

- When we count squares to measure how big something is, we call each square a unit (□ = one square unit)
- Use multiplication to determine how many square units your house is.
___ rows x ___ columns = _____ square units.
- Count how many square units your windows are. _____square units.
- Count how many square units your door is. ___ square units
- Color the picture.

