

AUTHOR Visit

Welcome

There's something special about meeting the person behind the books. My author visits inspire students, encourage a love of reading, and give young writers a behind-the-scenes look at how an idea becomes a published book. Presentations are tailored to your students' age and curriculum.

What Students Will Experience

- Learn how an idea becomes a published book.
- Explore the writing, editing, and illustration process.
- Connect reading with history, science, math, and character education.
- Participate in an interactive Q&A.
- Be encouraged to read, write, imagine, and dream.

Presentation Fee

- School visits within a 50-mile radius of Southeast Tennessee are available for a $50 presentation fee.
- Visits outside this area are welcome; travel arrangements and fees will be discussed during booking.

Preparing for Your Visit

- Schedule your author visit at least 4 weeks in advance.
- Send home the book order forms (available on my website) and encourage preorders as soon as possible.
- A final preorder count must be submitted no later than 2 weeks before the visit so I can prepare and personalize the correct number of books. Teachers will collect money brought in, and I will pick it up at the time of the visit.
- Provide a small table or workspace for book signing.
- Arrange audiovisual equipment if requested.

Frequently Asked Questions

- Presentation length: 30-45 minutes including Q&A;
- Can presentations be customized? Yes, for your grade level and curriculum goals.
- Can multiple grade levels attend? Yes.
- Can books be purchased on the day of the visit? Preordering is encouraged; additional copies may be available while supplies last.

Ready to Schedule?

I'd love the opportunity to visit your school and inspire a lifelong love of reading and writing.
